* Work practice at the Åland Health and Care Services can be offered mainly within primary care. This offers unique opportunities to experience the solutions at hand in rural and archipelago preventive health care, nursing, basic medical treatments, and rehabilitation without limitations as to disorders, age or patient groups. Primary care is a complement to hospital care and treats illnesses that do not require hospitalisation. . The work practice consists mainly of day-time work in the form of home care in private residences or special homes as well as surgery hours.
